Dedication

We, the yearbook staff, proudly present a year in Viking country as recorded in this 1968-69 Axe and Shield.

We wish to dedicate this yearbook to the ninth graders of the past, present, and future of C. T. Lane Junior High School. We feel that the ninth graders play an important role in determining the success of each school year. The freshmen every year try to pave the way for their successors as they uphold existing traditions set down before them. Most underclassmen look up to freshmen; therefore, we freshmen must try to set good examples and encourage the future freshmen to do the same. We, the freshman class of 1968-69, hope we have truly fulfilled our obligations to the school and to the underclassmen as well as to the community.

That's a good one. Let's use it.

Even the editor works—at page layouts that is.

All these pictures have to be identified????

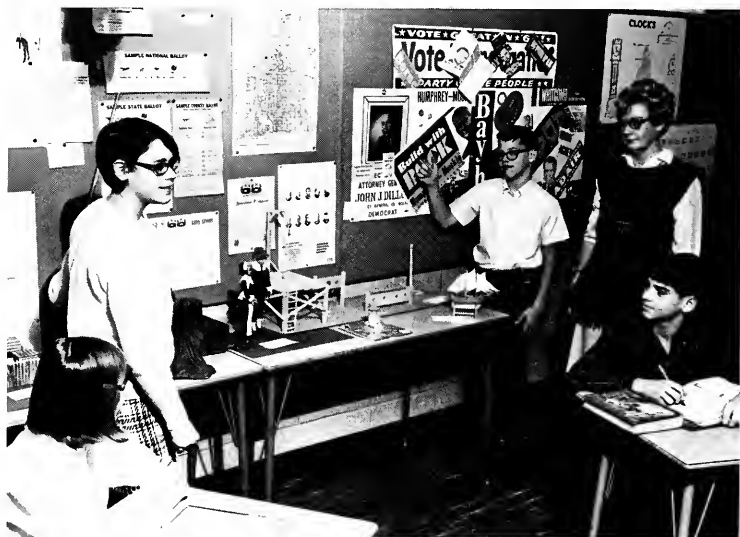

Students study new lands and peoples in their geography classes. They learn the customs, government, and way of life of people of other nations, large or small, powerful or weak.

Studying people and places of the past and present, . . .

Politics, the basis of our government, and the history of the early United States are just a few of the things learned by students in their history classes. They learn how the United States came to be, on what foundations it was built, and why we should trust in and be loyal to our country.

The ninth grade Spanish classes, as well as the French classes, learn not only the language but also about the people and countries the language is from. Emphasis is placed on speaking and understanding the language as well as the grammar.

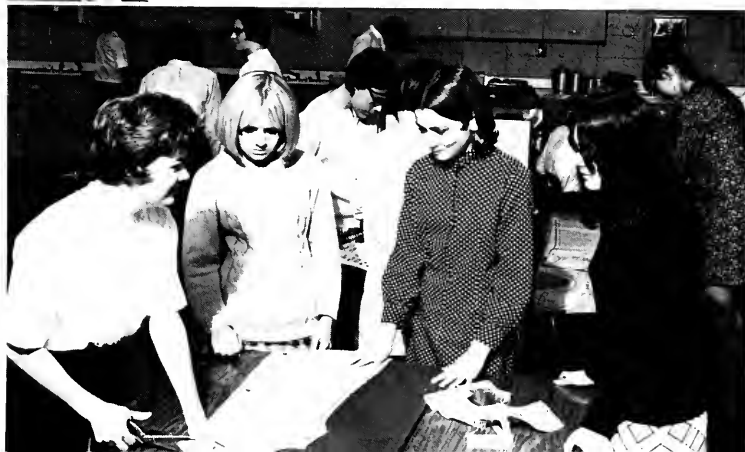

Students deepen their understanding and appreciation of art and music as they practice and improve their talents through classroom training. The music students also put in many hours of practice at home and then display their talents through the band and choir concerts. The art students often help teachers with bulletin boards and displays.

building, making, creating, ...*

In their industrial arts classes boys enjoy building useful and decorative articles. Also important to these students is the instruction in the care and use of the excellent equipment in the Lane shop.

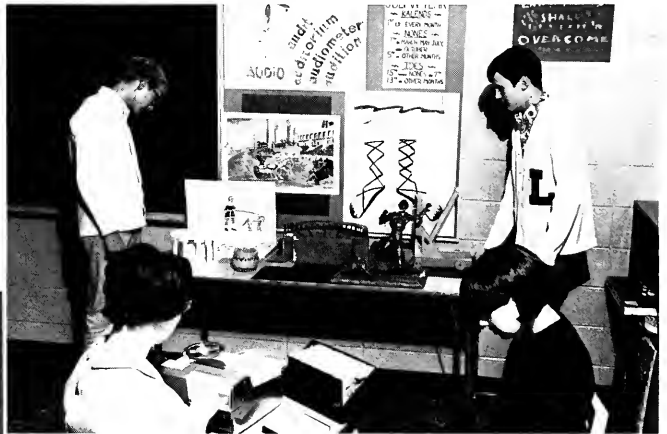

In the home economics classes the girls enjoy learning to cook and sew as well as getting helpful hints on personal care and homemaking. They also have much equipment to learn how to use and care for.

Grammar, composition, spelling, and literature are areas studied in the Language Arts classes. Students learn more about their native tongue and how to use it more correctly and exactly. Through literature they learn about people and places of the past and present and see the beauty of the written language.

... developing more proficiency in reading, writing, speaking, ...

A study of Latin, intensified by work on projects and use of tape recordings, gives students a good picture of what life was like in the ancient Roman times while it aids them in learning their own language which is deeply rooted in Latin.

The Developmental Reading course is designed to increase each student's reading speed and comprehension and thus be of immeasurable value in all his school work.

In the Developmental Language classes, students perfect their communication skills. They work to be more effective and exact in speaking, writing, and even listening.

During class discussion students show enthusiasm and eagerness to show what they have learned in their assignments. Most of them just as eagerly ask questions as they seek more knowledge and understanding of their subjects.

. . . exercising mind and body with time out for lunch and talk, . . .

Good fuel is important to keep the bodies and minds in top working condition for physical and mental development. Lunch time also gives students a break from class work and a chance for a little different learning—the local “who’s going with whom.”

Strengthening and improving students physically is also of importance. They get this challenge and conditioning in their physical education classes. This time also gives them the chances to work off some of the energy that has built up during hours of sitting in classes.

The library is a busy place because of all the information it holds. The Vikings spend many hours here looking up facts for class reports, seeking further knowledge on their own, or reading for just plain enjoyment and relaxation.

Seeing and doing, as these students in biology know, are real helps in learning. These experiences will not soon be forgotten.

. . . learning, working, and sharing are many of the regular activities.

Vikings show true spirit as they cheer for their teams . . .

. . . and as they undertake projects to help their school.

Lane's first choir robes finally come!!

Students enrich and broaden their interests and knowledge through a variety of extracurricular activities. Many of the clubs cultivate hobbies or pastimes students may enjoy for the rest of their lives. Such a club is the Stamp and Coin Club. Its members are (SEATED) sponsor Mr. Fry, Terry O'Brien, Tom Croxton, Bob Carroll, Jim Beerstecher, (STANDING) Steve Hauser, Lee Kruckeburg, Bill Hodges, Mark Balay, Kevin Stoner, John Mundinger, Mike Schulze, Jeff Meyer, Bob Fisher, and Bob Jones.

SPORTS

Wrestling team, undefeated, takes city; Snowball and Shenfeld have all wins.

These are the proud members of the victorious wrestling team: (FRONT) Coach Neff, V. Fielden, D. Snowball, (KNEELING) M. Hamilton, T. Jordan, K. Witwer, (ROW 1) J. Bruggner, M. McBride, J. Hearon, C. La-Suer, J. Posey, G. Goldsberry, B. Shenfeld, R. Dolsen, S. Montgomery, M. Arington, J. Martin, S. Lipscomb, (ROW 2) R. Lilly, D. Stewart, M. Adams, M. Balay, S. Knight, M. Goshert, (ROW 3) R. Porter, D. Turner, R. Gephart, L. Kruckeberg, J. Usher, M. Conley, G. Scheffel, A. Greenlee, (ROW 4) T. Durham, M. Freese, R. Button, B. Carter, J. Dumask, J. Weaver, D. Arnold, and M. Anderson.

For the second consecutive year the Viking Varsity Wrestlers proudly claim the city championship trophy. The team remained undefeated throughout their entire season and the championship matches. Two individuals, Doug Snowball and Bob Shenfeld, went through without losing a single match. Snowball won 12 of his 13 matches with pins. A look at the record will show that all the wrestlers averaged more match wins than losses in their great season. The team collected 396 points over their opponents total of 73.

Following are the boys who wrestled in the tournament and their final placings in their divisions: Shenfeld (first), McBride (first), Goldsberry, Dolsen (fourth), Snowball (first), Fielden (second), Jordan, Witwer (third), Adams (third), Knight (first), and Goshert (third).

The 1968 Varsity Viking football team finished their season successfully but below their goal. The team, which won the division championship and almost captured the city title in their eighth grade season, this year failed to defeat Lakeside in a playoff game for the divisional title which would have lead them to the championship game with Geyer.

Lane started off the year with a disappointing loss to Kekionga but came back strong. Then after a loss to Franklin, they ended their season playing Lakeside. The Lancers started off fast and it was hard to catch them. Lane stormed back only to be scored on again. That was the game and the season for the Vikes. They fought hard and gave it all they had to end with a 3 and 3 record.

The seventh grade started out their season with a loss but they came charging back to show their power and promise a tremendous 1969 season.

The eighth grade Reserves met some very rough competition and barely escaped with only two hard-fought victories. Their biggest defeat came from the big and tough Geyer team at the end of the season. The other losses came in the last few minutes of the games. The team hopes the experience and a summer's growth will find them ready for a victorious varsity season next fall.

Varsity defense stays tough but offense falls short of winning points.

The 1968-69 Varsity Viking basketball team compiled somewhat of a disastrous record. They won only one game during the entire season. However, in many of the contests, the Vikes were ahead or not far behind until the closing minutes. They often seemed to fall apart late in the game then came back with a great rally. Unfortunately this rally was usually too late except in the case of the game with Northwood. The Varsity defense was great all year, one of the best around, but the offense just could not connect with the needed buckets at the right times.

Lack of height hurts Reserves; Byrne sparks seventh grade team.

Dave Byrne's move up to the Reserve team helped them finish the season with wins, but they will miss that height next year when the eighth grade will still have it. Byrne was high season scorer for both the teams.

Cindermen plan spring meets; Shenfeld sets school harrier record.

Bob Shenfeld, who holds the school cross country record, stands in front of his teammates who are manager Craig LaSuer, Bob Tweed, Steve Montgomery, Ron Whitlow, Mike Hamilton, Brad Etter, and coach Mr. Smith.

During the fall cross country meets, the Viking runners made a fair show of speed as they met some very tough competition. On the Shoaff Park course during a regular meet against Northwood, Bob Shenfeld set a new school record of 10 minutes, 49 seconds. Yet the record was not quite enough when the other tough harriers from around the city met and Lane team placed fifth.

It takes student managers and helpers like Tom Kelly (above) and plenty of hard work and practice . . .

... plus excellent coaching and enthusiastic backing . . .

... to produce winning form and winning teams.

The ninth grade Girls' Basketball Team is composed of (ROW 1) their coach Mrs. Goshert, Debbie Lee, Michele Colglazier, Jean Sabin, Sandy Edwards, Peg Nowlin, Bonnie Lemert, (ROW 2) Sally Spencer, Barb Teetor, Ann Sorg, Jean Michalski, Marilyn Ernst, and Pat Jorgensen.

Girls' roundball team shows power; cheerleaders keep game spirit loud.

The ninth grade girls got a late start in their extramural basketball season due to their change in coaches. They opened their season playing an experienced Portage team and won in a thrilling overtime. They then easily beat the Jefferson girls but lost their final game in a close heartbreaker to Lakeside. Although their season was short, they proved they were a tough girls' team to beat.

Leading the cheers for the Varsity Vikings this year are (KNEELING) Marg Achleman, (CENTER) Laurie Maxfield, Linda Bopp, (BACK) Beth Brenizer, and Tammy Groves.

Part of any team's power and success is the support and enthusiasm shown by its fans. This spirit has a tremendous psychological effect on the players and boosts their desire to win. Keeping this spirit alive and showing loudly is the important job of the cheerleaders who organize and direct the fan support.

Supporting the Reserve Vikings in their games are the eighth grade yell leaders (STANDING) Patty Parks, Laurie Baiden, Carol McIntosh, (KNEELING) Dawn Postel, alternate Nancy Barch, and Starr Nahrwold.

Intramurals provide opportunities in competitive sports to all students.

There are many students interested in participating in sports who could not try out for or make the various teams. The intramural groups give them the chance to participate and compete with one another in physical activities. They also give some of those who are on Lane teams more exercise and chances to keep in better condition.

FACULTY

LORDS OF THE CLANS

Mr. Ralph McClain's job as principal is a very busy one. Not only must he keep the school itself running efficiently by doing everything in his power to keep the atmosphere conducive to the education process, but he must also represent it in the whole Fort Wayne school system and to the community. He must see that general school policies are clear to all and upheld and make many decisions and judgments within Lane itself.

Mr. McClain and Mr. Karanovich wisely and efficiently rule Viking land.

Mr. Nick Karanovich's job as assistant principal holds just as many duties and responsibilities, especially when he must act as principal when Mr. McClain has other duties outside the Lane school building. He is the guidance coordinator and thus works closely with Mr. Kaufman, the teachers, and individual students. Also, as the principal does, he helps keep the school policies and functions clear to the people of the community, especially the parents of Lane students.

Mr. Kaufman spends much time talking with students and helping them with their programming or other school and even personal problems.

Guidance includes much more than just working with discipline problems. As guidance counselor, Mr. Kaufman works with individual students in helping them with their schedules, school problems, and often even personal problems. He is always ready to talk with students and give them information and guidance to aid them in their lives in and out of school and to help them in planning their futures.

Mr. Kaufman does not work alone. Besides the work of the principal and assistant principal with the students, the teachers are also counselors. Along with teaching, they do much the same work as Mr. Kaufman, but often times refer students to him for further individual help.

Mrs. Mary Morrison (STANDING) and Mrs. Evelyn Crandall (SEATED) are the "girls Friday" to Mr. McClain, Mr. Karanovich, and the teachers. They efficiently keep the business end of the school in order along with handling the piles of typing, filing, recording, dittoing, and other duties that fall their way.

Guidance is important to students; secretaries keep things in balance.

The cafeteria staff consists of manager Mrs. Gertrude Smock, Mrs. Mary Jane Lichtsinn, Mrs. Lucille Sargent, Mrs. Barbara Newman, Mrs. Marie Householder, Mrs. Florence Widman, and Mrs. Charlotte Smith.

The custodial staff consists of (above) Dale White, head custodian; Irene DeBolt, matron; William Ramsey, engineer; and the evening workers (below) Charles Tepin and Leroy Stanger.

Mr. Claude Keller, librarian; Mrs. Lucy Hulst, study hall; Mrs. Lorraine Cooper, library aide; and Mrs. Lavonne Koop, cafeteria monitor and secretary, are always kept very busy with their work.

Keeping a school running efficiently and fulfilling its purpose requires many services. Keeping the building and equipment in the best of condition and appearance, the students and faculty supplied with nourishing food, and aiding students and teachers in their work, keep the custodial, cafeteria, and library staffs busy and make them very important to the school.

The student cafeteria helpers are (ROW 1) B. Bennett, M. Whitehouse, B. Reeder, Mrs. Smock, C. Slater, D. Simmons, J. Byers, (ROW 2) B. Sherwood, B. Whitehouse, V. Curdes, D. Bojrab, R. Wheelchle, P. ACTIVITIES

SOCIETY IN VIKING LIFE

The Student Council officers who lead the way through a year filled with many worthwhile and interesting projects are (SEATED) Mary Trovinger, Treasurer; Mark Shambaugh, Vice President; Doug Snowball, President; Mr. Kaufman, sponsor; Beth Brenizer, Secretary, and Larry Lindholm, Parliamentarian.

Student Council leads Viking nation and sets a record in generosity.

As the organization of the leaders of C. T. Lane Junior High, the Student Council is the center of spirit and student service to the school and to the community. This year, as every year, they sponsor many projects, the biggest of which is their Christmas project. This is the third consecutive year that they have led the whole Viking nation of Lane in supporting the East Wayne Cupboard and the Society for Crippled Children. Even though the school enrollment is smaller this year than ever before, the generous response of the students with food and money donations set a fabulous new record. A check for $1,000 was presented to the Society and 1,817 in food items was turned over to the Cupboard.

The annual talent show is another one of the Council's big projects.

Paper staff prints year's events; Y-Teens help selves and others.

Interviewing teachers and students, getting information, writing and typing stories, making up headlines, copy and proofreading, taking pictures, writing captions, doing art work, and laying out pages, not to mention keeping eyes and ears open for news and helping to fold the papers before distribution, keep the Norseman staff busy each month. They do all this to keep their readers up to date on the people and events in Viking territory.

Instrumentalists win many awards in annual NISBOVA contests . . .

Each year many musically talented students enter the NISBOVA (Northern Indiana School Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Association) judging. Lane students have always returned with many superior and excellent ratings for which they receive gold and silver medals. This year was no exception. The following students won gold medals for their instrumental solos: Linda Goodlad, Barb Bell, Matt Bixler, Terry Whearley, Steve Doster, Vicki Doster, Steve Griswold, Kay Divelbiss, Brian Hill, Denny Bojrab, Patty Mertz, Mike Schulze, Dave Hamilton, Steve Winter, Pam Clinkenbeard, Pam Susdorf, Becky Whearley, Natalie Nicholas, Kevin Stoner, Nancy McLeroth, and Donna Barr.

The members of the Concert Orchestra are (ROW 1) P. Susdorf, M. Matthews, S. Montgomery, K. Kemp, L. Rohloff, C. Nicholas, P. Clinkenbeard, (ROW 2) B. Whearley, B. Teetor, L. Siebold, S. Jennings, L. Goldsmith, M. Trovinger, L. Coppock, G. Dermer, D. Garard, D. Lutter, M. Ellert, (ROW 3) D. Wolf, T. Lee, J. Doehrman, J. Sabin, P. Shanebeck, J. Christensen, S. Edwards, M. Schulze, K. VanScoik,

Pam Susdorf, Melanie Matthews, Cynthia Nicholas, and Pam Clinkenbeard (String Quartet) also won gold medals.

For their excellent group performances the following students won silver medals: Mark Balay, Sandy Edwards, Doug Snowball, John Christensen (Clarinet Quartet); Mark Balay, Sandy Edwards (Clarinet Duet); Pat Hughes, Amy McCammon, Lori Steffen, Cherie Gee (Flute Quartet); Steve Winter, Dave Hamilton, Matt Vachon, Steve Sager (Cornet Quartet); and Denise Lutter, Beth McIntosh (Piano Duet).

All these outstanding performances show why Lane's music department is one of which to be very proud and why their combined efforts in concerts are so good.

Playing in the band or the orchestra gives the students experience in working with a group while they practice and polish their own performances with the direction of Mr. Hopkins. They also deepen their love and understanding of many types of music as they practice for the concerts they present with the vocal groups.

The Cadet Band members are (ROW 1) C. Albertson, B. Whearley, C. Gee, S. Gwaltney, L. Steffen, A. McCammon, P. Hughes, (ROW 2) J. Bireley, J. Buchanan, T. Sprague, B. Trosvig, S. Doster, S. The sophisticated ninth grade girls??

Now, Mark, aren't you sorry you teased Kathy about her broken finger?

So this is how teachers keep order in their classes!

Soc it to 'em!!

Dustin Hoffman? No, it's just Frank.

How about using some of this concentration in school?

Don't laugh; you're next.

Styles are changing, and of course, girls are interested in them.

And so another year ends.
